SYNOPSIS	This documentary tells the story of human cloning... in two chilling parts. PART I - THE FIRST HUMAN CLONE The first part looks at the controversial attempts to clone a human being. We follow the secretive efforts of a small group of doctors and scientists, led by Dr. Zavos, to develop cloning techniques in the face of ferocious opposition from many governments and most of society. For the first time, we see the formation of a ten-cell human embryo. PART II - CLONING THE DEAD Dr. Zavos announces that his scientific team has successfully produced an embryo from the tissue of a dead man. It isn't long before grieving relatives from around the world put in their requests to have their dead relatives cloned.
