Synopsis

FAITHBOOK: Faithbook is the new social network. But you can only get in "by invitation only." Satomi gets in through her friend Karin's invitation. However, Faithbook is not what it's cracked out to be. Immediately after being accepted, Satomi finds herself locked in a cage, staring at a clock with time running out. Before time runs out, she must invite enough friends or face being gassed to death. Can Satomi friend enough people to prevent her own demise?

STALKER: Namiki and her boyfriend Tamotsu are being stalked by Michio in broad daylight. Wherever they go, Michio goes. The stalker does not allow anyone near Namiki. He even kills people who advance too close to her. When Michio professes his love to her, Namiki must choose between her stalker and her boyfriend.

WITHDRAWN: Two sisters live together. One is an adult and works, the younger is a teenage girl in high school. But her attendance is not great, as she ditches school and stays in her apartment. The older sister discovers a series of texts, realizes her teenage sister is being "bullied" at school. This is why she's been skipping classes. The elder sister understands these concerns, but one day, when she comes home, she sees the younger sister hanging from the ceiling.

Additional Information

ALONE WITH NANAKO: Nanako and Ryota sneak into an abandoned house to play their game, "bandit home." They pretend they are criminals in an abandoned house, but when Nanako sees a ghost, Ryota can only laugh, ridiculing him. Did Ryota create this ghost as a sick joke or does she have a different agenda.
