Synopsis

Solange is the female version of a womanizing film director who is confident about her conquests and her ability to figure out men. Along comes Bruno, a man she can't stand. Solange's faith is put to a test. In spite of her better judgment, she is undeniably attracted to Bruno and sleeps with him over and over again, against her better judgement. From the director of "Fat Girl" and "Romance X", comes yet another confrontational tale of sexual conquest.
